

The City of Boston

PROCLAMATION

- Whereas: We celebrate the 30th Anniversary year of the Boston Veg Food Fest, an annual event of the all-volunteer, nonprofit Boston Vegetarian Society. The Boston Veg Fest is the longest-running Veg Fest in the country, bringing together an amazing array of providers of 100% plant-based food and lifestyle products, notable chefs and speakers, and various educational exhibitors; AND
- Whereas: The Fest is offered free to the public and attracts many thousands of attendees. It serves as a fun and welcoming way to learn about how food choices can affect our personal health and the world around us -- the environment, the climate, and the animals. Whether vegan, vegetarian, or just curious to learn more, all are welcome; AND
- Whereas: The Fest is conveniently located at the Reggie Lewis Athletic Center at Roxbury Crossing for a very full afternoon of activities and showcases, all in support of the Boston Vegetarian Society's dedication to sharing their mission through outreach and community support; NOW
- Therefore: I, Michelle Wu, Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby declare October 18th, 2025, to be:

Boston Veg Food Fest Day in the City of Boston

I urge all my fellow Bostonians to join me in honoring Boston Veg Food Fest's contributions to the betterment of the City of Boston.
